

One call solves all when there's a problem with your premises

It's your worst nightmare – you turn up at the office on a cold winter's morning to find a burst pipe or the heating defunct. What do you do?

If you know what's good for your business – and your stress levels - you call Dial a Handyman, a family run 'one stop shop' providing professional maintenance, improvement and repair services for commercial properties. Every skill you need is under one roof – from first class plumbers and painters to top quality builders and electricians.

Rob Millington set up Dial a Handyman with wife Dorothy and son Rob (Junior) nearly three years ago. He made a commitment then to offer clients reliable, professional and fully guaranteed work. Personnel are fully vetted, insured and arrive in smart corporate uniform ready to do a first class job.

Getting the job right, first time

Said Rob: "We are the professional maintenance service for all those niggling jobs around your commercial property. We can offer clients all trades under one roof, fully managed by ourselves. We take pride in the fact that ninety per cent of the work is carried by our own employed team. Our promise is to do the job right first time at a fair price."

Dial a Handyman covers every aspect of building maintenance and structural works. It is Corgi accredited for heating and plumbing purposes and is a member of the CITB (Construction Industry Training Board)

Rob began in property development in 1999, buying run down property from auctions to refurbish and rent out to tenants. "I got a real buzz from turning a wreck of a property into a real home-from-home for my tenants," said Rob.

With access to a network of top tradesman, Rob decided to start his own home improvement/building maintenance business, Dial a Handyman, in March 2006.

Based in Liverpool, the company covers of The North West, with branches in Aintree, Bromborough, St Helens and Warrington. All vehicles are fully equipped to cover emergency calls and have a tracker device fitted to give estimated time of arrival for clients.

The business has a number of blue chip clients, including the Bootle based Health & Safety Executive Building and Progress Housing Group, as well as law firms JST Lawyers and Maxwell Hodge Solicitors.

A feather in their cap

Nothing is too much trouble for the team either. Whilst working on the Cunard Building at the Pier Head, they rescued an injured bird from an inlet and handed it over to a local bird sanctuary.
